No planning required! Need a day away to relax, refresh, renew? Just get in your car and go! Day Trips from Raleigh-Durham is your guide to hundreds of exciting things to do, see, and discover right in your own backyard. Explore places you never even knew existed - many free of charge and most within a two-hour drive of the Raleigh-Durham area. Do something outdoorsy: Take a guided ecotour by kayak along Cape Fear or Black River. Do something soul-inspiring: Pay your respects at the final resting place of many prominent African-Americans at the Providence Burial Ground. Do something sporty: Tee off at one of forty-three championship courses in the "Golf Capital of the World." Do something kid-approved: Take a daytime drive past colorful, reflective windmill sculptures, and then return at night when the wind picks up to see them whirl and twirl. With full trip-planning information, you can make the most of your time off and rediscover the simple pleasures of a day trip.

Ralph Grizzle writes about travel, particularly cruising. He lives in Asheville, North Carolina. James L. Hoffman is a lifelong resident of North Carolina. He is a freelance writer and public relations and Excellent information in it - more pictures would have been nice.

Look forward to using this on my trip in September.

This book contains great ideas for daytrips from the Raleigh/Durham area. It categorizes the trips by region so that if you have already planned a trip you can find locations nearby. My wife and I have had lots of fun trips based on the things in the book.

excellent

We're happy with the book. Picked up a used one, and it's in decent condition, as described. Has good information on day trips in our area, which is perfect for our family, still trying to get familiar with our local surroundings, and looking for new interesting places to explore.
