Corinne T. Netzer is the author of dozens of books on diet and nutrition, including The Complete Book of Food Counts, The Carbohydrate Counter, and The Corinne T. Netzer Dieterâ™s Diary and Dieterâ™s Activity Diary.

I was nothing but pleased with this book. It is comprehensive and lists multiple versions of the same foods which is great when tracking carbs and macronutrients. You can flip through it with ease and quickly find the item you are looking for. I would highly recommend this book for anyone doing nutritional tracking.

This book is trade paperback sized and very thick which would make it hard to use. Tiny print and the binding broke as I was taking it out of the shipping package dropping about a third of the book pages on the post office floor. Finding anything in this book would take some time as it's flimsy, overcrowded and badly bound.

It is complete, but a small, very thick book, awkward to hold while shopping. Print is tiny too. I think they tried to cram too much info into too small a book.

Right after buying this, I found My Fitness Pal free app for my phone, which made the book entirely unnecessary when it arrived. The app does EVERYTHING I need and exceedingly easily. The book is like deciding to make fire with sticks when you can turn a dial and have instant fire of the exact size you want. Wasted money, but that's life!

Last night, I tried to find how many carbs were in plain, hot-air popped popcorn. It was impossible. Everything is a namebrand and I make most of my food from scratch. I couldn't even tell which brand name would be close. Even bananas are listed by brand-name. I wouldn't mind if the information was listed for just staples, too. Still a good book if you don't mind the frustration of searching and trying to figure out which product name would match your needs. Simpler would be better.

Great to sit on a table somewhere to pick up at anytime to check calorie intake.

Excellent Source of info for nutritional values of Food we Eat.

Want to start losing weight and this book goes everywhere with me, and I can look all the food I eat and stay on a 1200 hundred calorie diet, thank you so much
