These books are fantastic. The music is fresh, interesting, and well considered. The books work very well to support each other. I absolutely love all of the additional tips, challenges, and musical ideas presented beyond the songs themselves. As a piano teacher, this is my favorite series to teach from!

Faber curriculum just keeps getting better. They have a reliable, stable foundation that they overlay with ways to help the student be creative. I am now without close music stores, so this is now my main way for obtaining reliable music curriculum for my students. Faber and Faber has steadily increased over the years as one of my favorites. My students love the selections and respond well to the carefully thought out theory, and technique parts of the curriculum. I always recommend them to people just starting to teach.
